

Swedish soca group looks to Carnival

SWEDEN'S only soca band, Soca Rebels, hopes to be in Trinidad and Tobago for Carnival 1995.

Lars Hansson told HEAT that the band was hoping to make the trip to the land of soca this year, but members could not get time off from their jobs in Goteborg, Sweden.

He said that the band is hoping to work with Crazy later this year.

In 1992, Crazy had Sweden hot with soca when he toured with the Rebels, who did a remake of his smash hit "Nani Wine".

Since then the Rebels has been going guns, spreading the gospel of soca to Swedes everywhere.

The Soca Rebels wrote three new songs "Soca Nation", "Party Hearty" and "Dis Is Trouble" which have been put on record.

The record was manufactured in Barbados and distributed in Trinidad by Crosby Music Centre of St. James. Lars told HEAT he hopes the record opens the door for the group in Trinidad and Tobago.
